E-Book Synopsis

The fires of passion and sex burn hot in the world around us. Chasing desire seems to be a common theme in the world today. Music videos, the Internet, TV shows, movies, magazines and books often have one common theme, the feeding of desire. Our society has indeed become preoccupied with sex and more and more are getting caught in the web of deception that chasing desire creates.

What are the effects?

- Children disillusioned by parental infidelity
- Teenagers and College students confused and buying into the craze of "Girls Gone Wild" actions being where body dignity is found
- The lonely and heart-broken housewife struggling to find intimacy and measure up to the blonde bombshells of her husband's pornography enthusiasm and addiction
- Women struggling to be valued by our culture as more than sex objects
- Men struggling so much with the strongholds of lust and desire that they can't walk by a display of magazines without feeling the tug

And then along comes someone like me stating, "It is better to be wanted for a lifetime of nights and not just a night of a lifetime." Along comes someone like me with a message that TURNING ON may be elevated over and over again in the world around us, but TUNING IN is what the heart really longs for.

This e-book will help you see:

- Why LIVING FOR THE MOMENT is causing so many to MISS THE LIFETIME
- Why being seduced by an over-emphasis on the bedroom and the body is hurting us
- Why so many are getting "burned by the heat"
- Why so many struggle with preoccupation or addiction to sex
- Why THE FIRE THAT WARMS is better than THE FIRE THAT BURNS
